THE WEEK IN SOCIETY.

the spirit of unrest which usually prevails with society people at this time of the year was conously marked last week. Many persons prominent in the doings of the fashionable world have gone direct from Newport and Bar Harbor to Lenox, others, after coming to New-York for a few days in the shop, a hurried visit to one of the suburban onles and a night at the play, with dinner and supper at Deimonico's or the Waldorf, have re-turned to Newport, which is settling down into the grayness of its autumn season. The large popula-tion of cottagers still remain, and over friendly tuncheons and informal dinners discuss the suc cesses, failures and disappointments of the gayest on ever known there. The private balls are generally admitted to have been the most gorgeous ats, especially those given in the open air, come n for a generous share of praise. One of the principal social happenings of last week was a picnic cluse given by the members of the British sy in appreciation of social courtesies received during their stay in the city by the sea. The tertainment was arranged by H. O. Bax-Ironsides Chief Secretary of the Embassy, and it was a great The guests, who were driven out in success.

coaches, included Lady Eileen and Lady Rachel Wrndham-Quin, Miss Grace Wilson, Miss Fannie Taller, Mrs. George Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Henry Herbert, Miss Clews, Miss Sherman, the Misses Brice, Miss Whitehouse, Miss Beach, Mrs. N. Devereau Clapp, Miss Clapp, Count Sierstorpff, J. Ellis Hoffman, Richard T. Wilson, jr., and J. J.

An interesting engagement announced at Newport on Tuesday was that of Miss Mary F. Hunter, ond daughter of Mrs. Thomas R. Hunter, and sisried Miss Edith Norman, to Shefter Howard, of San Francisco. Miss Hunter, who is well known in so-ciety at Newport and in this city, is a niece of Senator George Peabody Wetmore and of W. Watts Sherman. A number of other engagements, re-ports of which were industriously disseminated during the last summer, have finally proved to be imag-

The first large wedding of the autumn season was that of Miss Mary Lavinia Archbold, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Archbold, and Michael durray Van Beuren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick r. Van Beuren, which was celebrated on Wednesafternoon last in St. Mark's Protestant Episcopal Church at Tarrytown. The occasion was a gala day in the quiet little town. The villagers ook the warmest interest in the marriage, and flocked to the church in numbers large enough to fill the building twice over. A handbridal couple than Miss Archbold and Mr. Van Beuren have rarely been seen. The effective and tasteful disposition of masses of white roses and green foliage, both in the decoration of the church and Cedar Cliff, Mr. Archbold's country home, was most successful. Miss Archbold's girlish beauty was much enhanced by the bridal attire, which was extremely graceful and becoming, without being at all showy. The maid of hono and bridesmalds were strikingly pretty in their costumes of white silk, lace and chiffon. The bridal which were displayed to the guests attending the reception, were costly and beautiful, tea service presented by the bride's mother was one of the most admired gifts in the collection Mr. Van Beuren and his bride sailed for England vesterday in the steamship Campania.

Another pretty out-of-town wedding last week of Miss Agnes Wallace Hamilton and Robert Boyd Currie, which took place on Tuesday afternoon at Irvinedell, the country home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Hamilton, at Interlaken, N. J. Miss Hamilton was a beautiful bride, attired in white satin and point lace, but so simple, natural and unaffected as to call for the admiration of all. At the reception the bride was assisted in receiving by her mother, who were a gown of black satin, waist of jet, with sleeves of embroidered chiffon, her sister, Mrs. John L. Drummond, in black and white moire, waist of em-brodered silk, and short sleeves of white chiffon lack velvet, and Mrs. Thomas L. Hamilton, who looked handsome in violet brocade embellished The company at the ceremony and reception was wedding of Miss Florence Baker Emery,

W. Edgar Emery and P. Georger, at Flemington, N. J., on Wednesday aftervas a very pretty one. The Presbyterian where the marriage ceremony was perby a canopy, under which the bridal procession passed. Rose Lodge, the country home of Mr. gorgeously decked with flowers in honor of the True to the sporting character of their residents, the Long Island colony about Hempstead and Cedarhurst and the Country Cub at Westchester turned out in great numbers last week to witness the polo matches for the championship of the United States and the cup presented by William Waidorf Astor, which were played in Prospect Park, Brooklyn, on Tuesday and Friday. On each day of the contest a long line of brakes and coaches were drawn up about the parade grounds, on which were many handsome women. The mishap which befell Foxhall Keene on Friday and the defeat of the Rockaway team were a rather mournful ending of the sport, which was fast, furious and always Lenox, which just now is the home of fashion, is crowded with representatives of every class of the gay world, and the butterfly throng in bright costumes and showy equipages fit up and down the old-fashioned village streets and along the excellent roads. Every one turned out last week to the golf tournament and every one was delighted when Miss Sloane won the silver cup presented by Mrs. De Heridia.

The happening to which every one in Lenox is looking forward is the wedling of Miss Stokes and Mr. Hoyt, which is set down for October 31. It be a gay affair and one of the largest of its kind ever given in the Berkshire region. The ceremony in Trinity Church is to be as elaborate as the titual of the Protestant Episcopal Church will ad-The choral service will be sung by the choir of St. Rartholomew's Church, this city.

The weldings of the week will begin on Tuesday. when Miss Nina Loeb, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Loeb, and Paul M. Warburg, will married at Sunset Hill, the country home of the bride's parents, on the Rumson Road, near Sea-bright, N. J. The Rev. Dr. Gustave Gotthell, of the Temple Emanu-El, of this city, will perform the ceremony, which will be followed by a large reception. Miss Loeb will be unattended by either bridesmaids or maid of honor, and Mr. Warburg who is a member of the banking firm of M. M. Warbarg, of Hamburg, Germany, will be without a best man. The ushers will be the brother of the bride, James Loeb, A. B. Warburg, of Hamburg, a brother of the bride room; Albert Stern, Otto Loewengard, Edward J. King, jr., George W. Seligman, Louis Heinsheimer and Mortimer L. Schiff. A special train will carry the guests from this city over the New-Jersey Central Railroad.

At 8:30 o'clock on Tuesday evening, in the Church of the Heavenly Rest, Fifth-ave. and Forty-fifthst, the marriage of Miss May Brewen and John Brickett Moffatt, of Yonkers, will be celebrated. One of the fushionable out-of-town weddings on Tueslay will be that of Miss Florence Lockwood, daughter of Frederic W. Lockwood, and William H. Reid, of Mount Sterling, Ky. The marriage ceremony will take place at 8 o'clock in the evening, in St. John's Church, Stamford, Conn. The bride will be attended by six bridesmaids, Miss Elia Hoyt and Miss Winifred Hall, of Stamford, Conn.; Miss Eleanor Pierrepont Edwards, of Newark, N. J.; Miss Lucy Simms and Miss Mabel Hard, of Paris, Ky. and Miss Sallie Middlebrook of Brooklyn. will be attired in white satin gowns, and will carry bouquets of white roses. The ushers will include C. Baldwin and Victor J. Phillips, of New-York Lawrence B. Jinckes, and John C. Buckley, of Stamford, Conn.; Pierce Winn, and Carroll Hamilton, of Kentucky. After the ceremony there will be a reception at the home of the bride's parents, on

The marriage of Miss Ada Kip, daughter of Mr. The marriage of Miss Ada Kip, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Kip, of No. 308 West Thirty-thirdst., to Edward L. Gilbert, will take place at 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening, at the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. Victor C. Smith will be the officiating clergyman. Miss Blanche Ladd will be the maid of honor, and Miss Eva Kip, a sister of the bride, and Miss Lucy E. Gilbert, a sister of the the bride, and Miss Lucy E. Gilbert, a sister of the bridegroom, will be the bridesmalds. Mr. Gilbert's bridegroom, will be Henry Y. Wemple jr., and the ushers, Edwin W. Elkins and Charles B. Gilbert. A reception will follow the marriage ceremony.

reception will follow the marriage ceremony. fashionable out-of-town wedding on Wednes day will be that of Miss Helen Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Robinson, and Frederic Buil, son of William Lanman Bull, of this city, which is to be celebrated in the Church of the Ascension, at Wakefield, R. I., where the bride's Parents have a handsome country home.

The wedding of Miss Katherine Brown Nomis di Pollone, daughter of the late Count di Pollone, of Turin, Italy, and granddaughter of the late J. Augustus Brown, of this city, and Henry Hollister Pease, of this city, will be celebrated in St. Paul's Church, Stockbridge, Mass., at noon on Saturday of this week. The bride will be given away by her uncle, John Yard, and the reception wil be held at the home of her aunt, Miss Julia Augusta Yard, Miss Emily Hill will be the maid of honor, and Miss Emily Hill will be the maid of honor, and Miss Isabel Hayward, the bridesmaids. W. Albert Pease, Jr., will attend his brother as best man. The ushers will be Brenville Winthrop, Walter E. Maynard, Henry E. Lonce, Lloyd McKim Garrison, G. Buell Hollister and James A. Parker.

Cards have been sent out for the wedding of Miss Eugenie Hawkhurst, daughter of John W. Hawxhurst, and Edward Phoenix Reynaud. It will be celebrated at 6 o'clock on Monday evening, October, In the Church of the Sacred Heart, Mount Vernon, N. Y.

Invitations have been issued for the marriage of distinguished chemist and discoverer of the Pass-hurst, and Edward Phoenix Reynaud. It will be celebrated at 6 o'clock on Monday evening. October 7. In the Church of the Sacrel Heart, Mount Vernon, N. Y.

Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Miss Bertha May Johnson, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Johnson, to Charles Walter Smith, of this city, to take place at 8 o'clock on Tuesday evening. October 8, in the Mount Morris Baptist Church, Fifth-ave, and One-hundred-and-twenty-seventh-st. The ceremony, which will be performed by the pastor of the church, the Rev. Dr. William C. Bitting, will be supplemented by a large reception at the home of the bride's parenta, No. 42: East One-hundred-and-sixteenth-st. The bride, who will wear a gown of white satin, embelished with lace and a tulle veil, will be attended by four bridesmaids. Miss Lizzle B. Odell, Miss Edna Jones, Miss Lulu Odell, and Miss Millie Smith, a sister of the bridegroom. They will wear costumes of yellow and white sik, and will carry yellow chrysanthemums. Eugene F. Turpeny will be Mr. Smith's best man. The ushers will be Dr. David Bibol, Leonard Runyon, Charles Hogue, Oscar, Risch, Charles Wesley White and Charles E. Sailpaugh. The bride has presented as souvenirs, to her attendants, pearl sunburst pins. Mr. Smith's souvenirs to his best man and ushers are scarf pins of laurel leaves and pearls. Mr. Smith and his bride sail for Europe on Wednesday morning, October 8, in the steamship Paris, for a five weeks' tour through Great Britain and France.

The welding of Miss Carrie Drusilla Honeywell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Honeywell, of Brooklyn, and Henry W. Macomber, a teller in the Produce Exchange Bank, will take piace at 8 o'clock in St. George's Church, Brooklyn, on Wednesday, October 8. On the same day Miss A. H. Magee, daughter of General George J. Magee, of Watkins, N. Y., will be married at Watkins to G. Louis Boissevaln, formerly of Amsterdam, Holland, now a resident of this city.

Among the engagements recently announced are those of Miss Fannie Valk, daughter of M to Seth Grosvenor Fessenden, of Stamford, Conn., and Miss Sarah E. Irving, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Van Rensselaer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Van Rensselaer Irving, to James Gore King.

Miss Jessie Charlotte Lozier, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Lozier, has announced her engagement to S. Henry Payne, of Elmira, N. Y.

Cards are out for the marriage of Miss Minnt Irene Renshaw, daughter of Mrs. William H. Renshaw, to Charles Thomas Esterbrook, on Thursday evening. October 10, at the bride's home, No. 63 Walnut-st., East Orange, N. J.

The engagement is announced of Miss Helen Sheffeld to William Lattimer, both of New-York, Miss Sheffeld is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Sheffeld, Mr. Lattimer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Lattimer, and a grandson of the head of the old firm of William Lattimer & Co.

Mrs. S. N. Penfield and Miss Jeorgia May Penfield have returned to their home at One-hundred-and-twelfth-st. and Morningside Park from the mountains in Maine.

The marriage of Miss Fanny Johnston Betts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Betts, of No. 102 Madison-ave., to Walcott Howe Johnson, son of Samuel Johnson, one of the best-known merchants in Heaton, will take place at 3:39 o'c'cok on Tuesday afternoon of next week, in Gruce Church, There will be a full choral service at the marriage ceremony, which will be performed by the Rev. Dr. Henry B. Cornwell, of Newburg, N. Y. Little nine-year-old Gabrielia M. Dexter will be the maid of honor, and Miss German Stoddard, Miss Margaret R. Bacon and Miss Mabel Metca, fo this city, and Miss Mary F. Johnson, of Boston, a cousin of the brides maids. Master Gouverneur Hoffman will be the page, who will hold the white satin ribhons across the centre aisle. Mr. Johnson, who will give his farewell bachelor dinner at the Union Club, this city, on Saturday evening, has selected the bride's Drother, Samuel R. Betts, to be his nest man. The ushers will be helling Johnson, of Hoston, a reception for relatives and intimate friends will follow at the home of married at St. Matthew's Catholic Church, Washington, on Tuesday, which is also Senator Blackburn's birthday. They sail at once for Europe for a year's absence. They first met at a reception in Washington's last winter. Senator Blackburn will leave here to-morrow to attend the wedding.

A NOVEL SHAKESPEARIAN REFIVAL.

MR. DALY WILL PRODUCE HENRY IV-ADA REHAN

TO PLAY PRINCE HENRY.

Edinburgh, September 19. Among the many interesting Shakespearian productions that are promised to occur in New-York during the dramatic season just begun, the most singular and novel, and one of the most important, will be effected at Daly's Theatre in January, 1896. Mr. Daly has made a new stage version of Shakespeare's historical play of "Henry IV." and when it is presented Miss Ada Rehan will impersonate Prince Henry. This piece has been in preparation for more than two years, and it is the purpose of the manager to offer it with a fine cast and with every possible splendor of scenic environment. At one time it was thought that M. Coquelin, speaking in English, would co-operate with Miss Rehan in the character of Falstaff; but that plan proved imprac-

Mr. Daly's version of the play will be found to differ from all others that have hitherto been acted. The stage custom has been, in America, when presenting "Henry IV." to give only the First Part; but Mr. Daly has blended the Second Part with the First, and by that means has coordinated into one harmonious five-act piece all the comedy scenes of the original, together with several of the strongest of the scenes of serious drama. This method of treating the play utilizes fine passages of sentiment, and delightful colloquies of comedy which, practically, have long been lost to the stage. The excluded scenes are mostly those which relate to politics and to war, and this is not a material sacrifice, for the reason that those scenes, however agreeable to read, are such as commonly prove monotorous in the representation.

The material that Mr. Daly has sought to preserve and to harmonize and embellish consists chiefly of the characters, the incidents and the language of comedy. More than forty of Shakespeare's characters are included in the play, and the cast will enlist a large company. Miss Rehan will have, in Prince Henry, a character to which, by reason of her imperial figure, her large and free manner, her habitual breadth of gesture, and her grace and brilliancy of demeanor, she is uncommonly well adapted. Certain passages spokmonly well adapted.

y Prince Henry require uncommon sonority felicity of elecution, and to this requirement Poben is fully equal. No player of our and felicity of elocution, and to this requirement and felicity of elocution, and to this requirement Miss Rehen is fully equal. No player of our time is a better speaker of English blank verse.

The character of Falstaff will be undertaken by Mr. James Lewis, and the somewhat unexpected and therefore remarkable success achieved by him as Sir Toby Belch may be recalled as a guarantee that it will be assumed in the right spirit and presented with all that close study and ambitious and conscientious effort can accomplish in the direction of a truthful and effective portraiture of a great and difficult part. Other particulars as to Mr. Daly's adaptation of Shakespeare's play, and as to the cast and the pageantry with which it will be performed, will no doubt be given in due time.

ry with which it will be performed, will no doubt be given in due time.

The play-book indicates scenic pictures of great beauty. The idea of blending the two parts of Shakespeare's history and of making a comedy of it was happily devised by Mr. Daly, and the event will probably prove that he has judged wisely in assigning the character of Prince Henry to Miss Rehan. Male characters were played by Peg Woffington and Dora Jordan,—not to mention other bright names of the dramatic past,—and Miss Rehan by her performances of Hippolyta, Viola, and Rosalind has shown that such characters are quite within the reach of an actcharacters are quite within the reach of an act-ress who in a special sense is their artistic de-scendant.

WHY MARLBOROUGH BOUGHT JEWELRY. London, Sept. 28.-The Duke of Marlborough, best. jewelry costing over £20,000. The announcement of his engagement to Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt sufficiently explains this expenditure.

Paris, Sept. 28.-Professor Louis Pasteur, the distinguished chemist and discoverer of the Pasteur treatment for the cure of rables, is dead. Pasteur expired at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon at his residence at Garches, near St. Cloud. His death was caused by paralysis. For several days past his condition had been gradually becoming worse, but the end came somewhat suddenly. It was thought that he had sufficient strength to resist the advance of the malady for at least a few days more. The news of his death did not reach Paris until a late hour to-

The story of Louis Pasteur's life is, apart from his scientific labors, a brief and very simple one. He was born at Dôle on December 27, 1822. His father, who served as a soldier under Napoleon, followed the trade of a tanner. When Louis was only two years old his parents moved to the town of Arbois, where his father had purchased a tannery. The boy was sent to the local school, and afterward to Besançon College, preparatory to entering the Ecole Normale at Paris. It was while at Besangon that he first exhibited a liking for chemistry, and in this, too, he became so rapidly proficient that the professor who taught that subject was soon reduced to admit that Pasteur knew more than he did. He then went on to Paris, but coming out only fourteenth of the candidates for the Ecole Normale, he determined to prepare for it during another twelvemonth rather than enter so low down on the list. A twelvemonth later he passed fourth out of a hundred candidates, and so he joined the Ecole Normale, where, as also at the Sorbonne, he devoted himself with passion to the study of chem-M. Dumas, whom he was destined to suc ceed forty years later at the Académie Francalse, was then professor of chemistry at Sor-bonne, and Louis Pasteur gradualty perfected himself in the knowledge which has since been exer-cised for the benefit of the whole human race.

DR. LOUIS PASTEUR.

His first great work was accomplished in 1865-66 He was then already a distinguished chemist, scientific director of the normal college, professor in the College of Fine Arts, member of the Institute, Rumford Medailist of the Royal Society, not quite so distinguished yet, however, as the chemist Dumas, his friend. But the latter, looking upon him, said, not irreverently, "He will increase as I shall de-

M. Dumas was studying the silkworm plague This plague, called pebrine, was without result. This plague, called pebrine, was destroying one of the greatest industries of France. A hundred million francs a year represented the loss it was inflicting. Presently the silk industry would be annihilated. Dumas gave up the hopeless task, returned to Paris, and said to Pasteur: But I have never seen a silk-"What of that? You are a Frenchman. worm!" This pebrine will ruin the fatherland un stop its progress. I have failed; but you are

Then M. Pasteur went to the silk region and began investigating pebrine. Soon he said: "This is a disease, but it is caused by parosites. Let us kfil all the parasites, and the plague will be ended." At that all France laughed; even the ruined slik-"How could all these microscopic creatraisers. "How could all these microscopic creattures be destroyed?" "By destroying all worms and eggs already attacked by them," was his reply.
"That is nonsense," said the others, "for myriads of new parasites will spring into being by spontaneous generation." And the Academy of Sciences formally censured him for bringing ridicule and reparasites will spring into being by spontaneous generation." And the Academy of Sciences formally censured him for bringing ridicule and reparasites he insisted that he was right, and he was ignorant. Let the cobbier stick to his last. Nevertheless, he insisted that he was right, and he was about to prove it. He was at St. Hippolyte, took with him the Mayor, and went to a six esiabilishment. He took from it a dozen or more different iots of moths, numbering them, and examined them carefully. Then he wrote out a detailed prophecy of what would be the fit in the Mayor's hands. In due time the eggs of these moths were latched. Some Them the Mayor opened the sealed prophecy and found that M.
Pasteur had foretoid with absolute accuracy the condition of each loi.
"He does know something about it, after all." And they followed his advice and got rid of the plague in short order.

Next he proceeded to investigate fermentation and similar phenomena. "Animalculae are the cause,"
similar phenomena, "animalculae are the cause," in eyested, "no such thing as spontaneous generation." Is," repiled M. Pasteur, "no such thing as apontaneous generation." And the sciention tide can only proceed from other life, such the set up his laboratory on a mountain-top and he set up his laboratory on a mountain-top and
he set up his laboratory on a mountain-top and
he set up his laboratory on a mountain-top and
he set up his laboratory on a mountain-top and
he set up his laboratory on a mountain-top and
he set up his laboratory on a mountain-top and
he set up his laboratory on a mountain-top and
he set up his laboratory on a mountain-top and he set up his laboratory on the proved co tures be destroyed?" "By destroying all worms and eggs already attacked by them," was his reply. "That is nonsense," said the others, "for myriads with needle-pointed syringe, and they go their way rejoicins.

As is well known, the lymph is prepared by "cultivation," at first in the living bodies of rabbits, afterward in a sort of broth. M. Pasteur's laboratory has for years been a vast menagerie. It contains numerous dogs, cats and other animals suffering from rables in all stages. As for the rabbits and guinea-pigs, their number is legion. They are used by the hundreds, being inoculated with virus from mad dogs, and thus made to die of hydrophobla. "This is intensely cruel," said M. Pasteur's critics. "Not so," replied that Christian scientist; "are not ye of more value than many sparrows?" For mere curlosity, he added, he would never have ventured to kill even one rabbit. But when by so doing the saving of human life might be effected, he was relefilless.

JOHN KEARNY RODGERS.

John Kearny Rodgers, who died suddenly from heart disease at South Amboy the other day, was one of the leading lawyers of New-Jersey and a descendant of one of the oldest New-York families. His great-grandfather, Dr. John Rodgers, was the First Presbyterian Church of New-York. His grandfather, John Ravaud Bayard Rodgers, was on General Washington's personal staff. His father, Dr. John Kearny Rodgers, was the founder of the New-York Eye and Ear Hospital, a contemporary and personal friend of Drs. Delafield and Watts and of the leading scientific men of his time. Mr. Rodgers was the fourth oldest member of the New-York Society of the Cincinnati, membership in which descends to his only surviving son, John Kearny Rodgers, of this city. On the maternal side he was related to many of the oldest families of Maryland and Virginia, his mother, a Miss Nicholson, of Baltimore, having been a direct descendant of Sir Francis Nicholson, at one time Governor of the colony of New-York and afterward of the colony of Virginia.

Virginia.

The funeral, at the family home, near South River, N. J., was attended by many New-York relatives and friends.

GEORGE MEGRATH.

George Megrath died at Morristown on Friday. He was born in this city in November, 1824, in a house in Chambers-st. His grandfather and father were in the cotton business under the firm name of Jones & Megrath, and had a branch house in Charleston, S. C., in 1806. Mr. Megrath was a direct descendant of Myles Megrath, who was created Archbishop of Cashel in 1579 by Queen Elizabeth. Through his maternal grandmother, whose maiden name was Goodman, he was descended from John Goodman, who came over in the Mayflower. He was one of the original members of the Produce Exchange, and for many years was a member of the Union League Club, from which he resigned a year ago on account of ill health. He has been in failing health for the last eighteen months. He was a man of distinguished presence, of kindly, courteous manners, and possessed of fine literary and artistic tastes. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church for more than fifty years, and in politics was an ardent Republican. In 1857 he married a daughter of the late Robert Smith, who survives him. whose maiden name was Goodman, he was descend-

HERBERT K. BROOKFIELD'S FUNERAL.

SERVICES AT THE HOME OF HIS FATHER, THE COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC WORKS.

The house of William Brookfield, Commissioner of Public Works, at No. 516 Madison-ave., was crowded yesterday afternoon when the funeral of his son, Herbert K. Brookfield, was held there. Many prominent New-Yorkers had gathered to express by their presence the sympathy which they felt for Mr. and Mrs. Brookfield on account of the fatal accident to his son. Among them were City Chamberlain McCook, General Samuel Thomas, Job E. Hedges, Excise Commissioner Murray, Julius M. Mayer, James A. Blanchard, William Henkel, Assemblyman Pavey, Thomas F. Eagan, Cornellus N. Bilss, Edward Lauterbach, ex-Judge Haw's, Augustus D. Shepard and Dock Commissioner

Augustus D. Shepard and Dock Commission.

The Rev. Dr. John Hall, of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, conducted the funeral services. Carriager containing members of the family and a few friends followed the hearse to the Grand Contral Station, and a special train took the funeral party to Woodiawn.

FOR PLOUGHS SENT TO BUENOS AYRES

A SOUTH AMERICAN FIRM ATTACHES JOHN MOORE'S SON COMPANY FOR $50,000.

Deputy Sheriff Henning has received an attachment for $59,000 against the John Moore's Son Company, manufacturers of agricultural implements, whose office was at Nos. 17 and 19 William-st., and factory at Raritan, N. J., in favor of Thomas Drysdale & Co., of Buenos Ayres, Argentina, for dam-ages for alleged breach of contract. Thomas Drysdale & Co. allege that they bought 5,000 ploughs from the John Moore's Son Company and paid siz,500 on account, but when the ploughs were re-ceived at Buenos Ayres it was found that they were inferior to the quality called for in the con-tract, and all but 378 were returned to this city and sold at auction for the company's account for 79%. The firm demand $5,000 damages for the value of the ploughs, the expenses of shipment both ways, import duties and loss of business for 1894. $19,556 on account, but when the ploughs were re-

THE ESTATE OF JOHN B. HASKIN.

ITS VALUE ESTIMATED AT NEARLY $800,000-MOST OF IT LEFT TO HIS FAMILY.

The will of ex-Congressman John B. Haskin, of mortgage on her house, No. 20 Chilton Place, Eliza-The daughter Elizabeth receives $5,000, and each of her children who bear the name of Welch will receive $5,000 at the age of twenty-one years. Amelia J. Murray, a granddaughter, receives $10,000, Amelia J. Murray, a granddaughter, receives $10,000, and a like sum is given to the daughters of Mrs. Le Compte. To Mr. Haskin's widow are given household furniture to the amount of $500 and an annuity of $1,500. Mr. Haskin's home at Fordham is given to his widow and his son John in the expectation that they will keep it jointly as long as Mrs. Haskin lives.

The will contains this provision in reference to a former son-in-law of Mr. Haskin: "Under no circumstances shall Edwin V. Welch, jr., (husband of my daughter Elizabeth), be permitted in any degree or manner to derive any personal benefit from my estate. And I especially request that my executors and my son and daughter Emma will not hold any social intercourse with him." Another provision is: "I enjoin that my children respect and love their mother, who has always been kind and good as mother and wife, and be especially kindly with maternal and fraternal affection toward each other." Small gifts are made to several of the grand-children.

NOVEL GROUND FOR REJECTING A WILL An application for the admission to probate of the will of Mrs. Harriet L. Losee, of Ardsley, Westchester County, has been refused by Surrogate Silkman, of White Plains, on the novel ground that one of the witnesses to the will was incompetent because she was nearly blind.

Mrs. Losee's will was drawn at her re-

Mrs. Thomas Losee, a relative, of Dobbs Ferry, and Mrs. Losee signed it on December 6, 1894. Her and Mrs. Losee signed it on becember 6, isse. It is daughter Elizabeth signed as one witness, and also signed the name of Mrs. Eliza Brown, the other witness. She signed for Mrs. Hrown because the latter's eyesight was so poor that she could not see to write. In the will Mrs. Losee gave $1,000 to her husband, and divided the residue of the estate, the value of which was unknown, among her children. David Armstrong was named as sole executor.

william Losee, a minor child, through George C. Andrews as special guardian, contested the will, alleging the incompetence of Mrs. Brown as a witness. At the hearing before the Surrogate Mrs. Brown was unable to distinguish the signature of her name on the will.

PART OF HIS WEALTH LEFT FOR CHARITY. The will of Bernhard Mainzer, a member of the firm of Hallgarten & Co., was filed for probate yesterday. The estate is valued at $700,000, all in personal property. A bequest of 100,000 reichsmarks to a brother, Dr. Joseph Mainzer, has lapsed through his death. Four per cent of the estate is given to the executors to distribute for charitable purposes. All the rest of the estate is given to the executors in trust, the income to be paid to the widow and children until the death of the widow, widow and children until the death of the widow, when the property is to be divided among the children. Mr. Mainzer left two sons, Robert H. and Herbert R., and a daughter. Eisle H. Mainzer, Sigmund Neustait and Joseph M. Lichtenauer are made executors. A codicil, which makes a different distribution of the estate, was written to take effect only in case Mr. Mainzer and his wife and daughter lest their lives on a trip to Europe. As they returned safely, it does not change the division of the property.

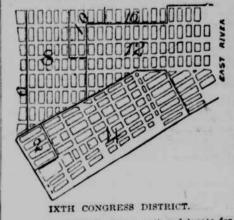

THAT KNOCKED 'EM. "Wot say? Got to give haudible warning o' yer approach? Well, that don't trouble me much; I'm a muffin man when I'm at 'ome."—(Ally Sloper.

DONE ACCORDING TO ORDERS

Continued from First Page.

to the State Convention, together with six election districts of the IId, six election districts of the VIth, five election districts of the Xth and six election districts of the XVIth Assembly District. A tabulated statement of the Republican vote in the fragments of the Hd, VIth, Xth and XVIth Assembly districts last year showed that it was about 1,400. Under the rule by which the State Committeemen are elected, allowing a voting delegate for each 1,000 votes. Mr. Collins said the fragments of districts were entitled to only two voting delegates in the choice of a member of the State Committee. This would allow for eleven delegates in the Congress district. The delegates from the IVth Assembly District, three in number, and the three delegates from the XIIth Assembly District had voted for Mr. Coilins, who was thus elected by the votes of the legal majority of the delegates in the IXth Congress District. Mr. Murray had received the votes of the three delegates from the VIIIth District. In order to give him a majority over Mr. Coilins, he had been allowed to have two votes from the Xth District, one vote from the VIIth District and one vote from the XVIIth District. No vote at all was allowed from the III District, where the delegates were for Mr. Coilins. were for Mr. Collins.

A FRAUD ON ITS FACE.

Mr. Collins told the State Committee that the proceeding by which an apparent majority had been obtained for Mr. Murray was a fraud on its been obtained for Mr. Murray was a fraud on its face. If the committee desired to countenance such a fraud, he declared, he could afford to restree from the committee. He had been told that the party lash had been applied by T. C. Platt, and he would wait and see if the members of the committee would obey Mr. Platt's orders, even to the extent of upholding fraud.

Members of the committee listened to Mr. Collins with set, stony faces, and said nothing. When he was through, Chairman Hackett inquired sweetly: "Have you anything to say, Mr. Murray?"

Mr. Murray only said that he thought the com-

Mr. Murray only said that he thought the committee was bound to recognize the paper which he had presented.

A vote was then taken, and all of the members of the committee present, thirty in number, voted to seat Mr. Murray. Mr. Collins walked out of the committee room and declared that he was satisfied to get out of the company of such men. John Simpson, who represented the IXth District in the State Committee last year, and had been instrumental in securing the election of Mr. Collins, was plainly angry when he heard of the committee's decision in the case. "This is worse than Maynardism!" he declared, and a number of Republicans of his district, who were with him in the lobby of the Fifth Avenue Hotel, said they agreed with him.

agreed with him.

The committee made short work of the contest made by John Reisenweber, of the XIVth District, for the seat of Abraham Gruber. It was evident that orders had been given to keep Mr. Gruber in the contest was seasoned by the contest of the contes The will of ex-Congressman John B. Haskin, of Fordham, was filed with the Surrogate yesterday. He owned a large amount of property in the northern part of the city, and his executor estimates the value of his estate at nearly $800,090. Mr. Haskin left a wife, a son, John B. Haskin, jr., and two daughters, Elizabeth Murray, wife of J. Hamilton Wyatt. Two daughters, Adele Murray and Mary Le Compte, have died. The daughter Elizabeth was formerly the wife of Edwin V. Welch, jr. Joseph Murray, jr., who was the husband of one of Mr. Haskin's daughters, now deceased, married Mrs. Welch.

Mr. Haskin by his will appoints John B. Haskin, jr., Abel Crook and John A. Carney as executors and trustees. He gives $500 each to Mr. Crook and Mr. Carney. Sond a like sum to the widow of his brother, Benjamin F. Haskin. The sum of $10.800 is given to Elizabeth B. Ward, wife of Ferdinand Ward, and the executors are ordered to pay off the mortagege on her house, No. 20 Chilton Place, Elizabeth. The daughter Elizabeth receives $5.000, and ing offence to Hebrews, who have wanted a representative in the State Committee.

HACKETT RE-ELECTED.

Colonel Dunn, of Binghamton, paid a glowing tribute to the great services of Charles W. Hackett, of Utica, as chairman of the committee, and moved his re-election. There was no opposition, and Mr. Hackett was declared unaniopposition, and Mr. Hackett was declared unanimously re-elected. Mr. Mott, of Oswego, performed the same service for John S. Kenyon, of Syracuse, and he was unanimously re-elected secretary. General Wiley, of Catskill, moved that Colonel Reuben L. Fox be re-elected chief clerk, and, on motion of ex-Postmaster Van Cott, General E. A. McAlpin was chosen treasurer of the committee. General McAlpin, who has been abroad for several weeks, is expected home again in a few days. Mr. Parkhurst, of Bath, moved the re-election of Charles M. Berrian of Brooklyn, as additional member of the home again in a lew days.

Bath, moved the re-election of Charles M. Berrian, of Brooklyn, as additional member of the committee. Mr. Jacobs, of Brooklyn, moved that the name of the Rev. W. R. Lawton, of the same city, be substituted for that of Mr. Berrian. The motion of Mr. Jacobs was lost and Mr. Berrian was then elected.

"ANNOUNCEMENTS."

Mr. Odell, of Newburg, moved that the chairman be empowered to appoint the advisory and executive committees. Mr. Hackett had the lists ready in his pocket, and made the following announcement:

Advisory Committee—Thomas C. Platt, Warner
Miller, Chauncey M. Depew and Edward Lauter-Lauterbach succeeds ex-Senator Hiscock

Mr. Lauterbach succeeds ex-Senator Hiscock in this body, whose "turning down" was not received in a kindly way by Mr. Hiscock's friends.

The Executive Committee was made up of the chairman, secretary-treasurer and chief clerk of the State Committee as members ex-officio, and Benjamin B. Odeli, fr., William Brookfield, William H. Robertson, George W. Aldridge, Barnet H. Davis, Henry J. Hurd, John F. Parkhurst, Cornelius Van Cott, George W. Dunn, William W. Goodrich, William Barnes, jr., William L. Proctor, Frank H. Hiscock, George Hilliard, William J. Youngs, William S. C. Wiley and F. H. Schroeder.

ENLARGEMENT OF THE COMMITTEE.

The action of the Democratic State Convention at Syracuse in enlarging the Democratic State Committee from thirty-four to fifty-one from each Senate district-had the effect, apparently of awakening Mr. Platt and his retainers to some interest in the question. Mr. Odell proposed a resolution, which was adopted, referring the expediency of enlarging the Republican State Committee to the Executive Committee, with instructions to report at the next meeting of the State Committee.

Mr. Van Cott offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That we learn with sincere regret of the great affliction of our fellow-member, the Hon. William Brookfield, in the death of his son, and extend to him and his family our heartfelt sympathy in the kreat loss they have sustained.

The committee adjourned to meet at the call of he chairman.

At a session of the Executive Committee held after the other meeting Congressman B. B. Odell, jr., of Newburg, was chosen chairman, with Messrs, Kenyon and Fox ex-officio secretary and chief clerk.

MORE EFFORTS FOR A UNION TICKET. GOOD GOVERNMENT CLUBS MAY BE INDUCED TO MAKE NO NOMINATIONS AT THE CONVEN-TION TO-MORROW EVENING.

There was another meeting of the sub-committee of the Confederated Council of Good Government Clubs yesterday afternoon in the office of R. Ful-ton Cutting, at No. 32 Nassau-st., but nothing of importance was accomplished at the meeting, and the committee adjourned with an understanding to meet again to-morrow afternoon at No. 22 Liberty-st. The convention or the Good Government clubs will meet in the United Charities Building to-morrow evening, and it will be necessary for the committee to make some report to the larger body. In view of the efforts to form a combination of all reform organizations for effective work against Tammany in the fall campaign, it is believed that the convention will not proceed to make any nomi-ernment Club men were advised that it would be suicidal for them to run a straight local ticket, as such a course would draw from the clubs the largest share of their voting strength. They were told that it would be much wiser to wait until the attitude of the Republicans was made clear at the County Convention on Thursday evening. Efforto will be made to have conference committees appointed by the Republican County Convention and by all of the reform organizations in order that a union ticket may be selected. If such a course is, pursued, there is believed to be almost a certainty that Tammany will be defeated again this fall.

A number of Platt Republicans, who were comparing notes with members of the State Committee at the Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, said last evening that they believed a straight ticket would be nominated at the County Convention on Thursday evening. Ex-Police Commissioner Kerwin said they felt that it would be better to be defeated in a straight-out contest at the polls than win a victory in a combination with Democrats and Good Government Club men. Another Republican said that such talk was meant as a bluff, in order that the Platt Republicans might have the opportunity to name a majority of the candidates on a union ticket.

The Hotel d'Iena, Paris, in a quiet, accessible loca-tion, is adapted for refined travellers who seek home com-forts. F. Schofield, Proprietor.

The Neuralgine Mfg. Co., New-York City.
I have used your "NEURALGINE" for pains in the band chest, also for Rheumatism, and find it a wonderfemedy.

AMOS WILLIAMSON, Butte, Mont.
PRICE 50C. A BOTTLE—AT ALL DRUGGISTS.

MARRIED.

CORTIS AHLERS At St. Pau's Church, Flatbush, N. Y. Saturday, September 28, 1885, by the Rev. T. G. Jackson, Grace Giroux, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hermann Ahlers, to Alfred Edward Cortis.

GERSDORFF - ROWNINSHIELD - At Stockbridge, 1888. on Saturday, September 28, by the Rev. Arthur wrence, D. D. Carl August de Gersdorff to Helen sette Crowninshield.

Suzette Crowninshield.

SICKELS-SHANNON-OR Tuezday September 24, 1808, at St. Andrew's Church, 5th-ave, and 127th-st., by Rev. Long. Comments of the Comment of the Comment

Notices of marriages and deaths must be in dorsed with full name and address.

DIED.

BLACK On Friday, September 27, after a short illness, Margaret E., elder daughter of A. Stewart and Anne GUILMETTE-At Yonkers, on Saturday, September 23, Minnie Humbert Guilmette, wife of the late Victor Guilmette and daughter of Mary and the late James Humbert. Notice of funeral hereafter.

HAS HROUCK-At Westfield, N. J., September 27, 1895, Mary C. Has Brown.

Funeral at her late home, 4 p. m., September 29, 1895, Funeral at her late home, 4 p. m., September 29, 1895, Mary C. Has Moveley N. J., on Friday, 27th inst.

MEGRATH- At Morristown, N. J., on Friday, 27th inst., George Megrath, of this city, in the 72t year of his age. Funeral services at the Church of the Holy Communion, 6th-ave. and 19th-st., on Monday, 30th inst., at 12:36 o'clock.

SCHOVERLING—On a Wednesday. September 25. at SCHOVERLING—On a Wednesday. September 25. at Scheveningen. Holland, at the residence of his son-in-law, F. W. Randebrock, esq., H. Hermann Schoverling, for many years a merchant of this city and a resident of Staten Island, in the 63d year of his age.

Special Notices.

Hidden Power. As the babbling brook goes rolling

Onward day by day, Whiter grow the little pebbles That lie in its way. As the springtime sun grows stronger, Bud and leaflet grow, And at length in flower and blossom, All their beauty show. So the teeth will gain perfection,

Neath the wondrous power Of sweet SOZODONT, the fragrant, Like the bud and flower. THE FAIR DAUGHTERS OF FASHION prefer SOZODONT to every other article for the teeth, be cause nothing renders those ornaments of the mouth se spotless, or imparts such an agreeable odor to the breath. Moreover, experience proves the article to be perfectly wholesome, which cannot be said of all dentifrices.

A lovely companion perfame is Mat-su-ki-ta to the world-renowned Crab Apple Bios-soms and Crown Lavender Salts. Ask for it! Espenscheid's celebrated Hats for Gentlemen. Sales-oom, 118 Nassau-st.

This famous water is now (by a most diaborate tubings restored to all its former strength and excellence.

"La Delicatesse."

"Confection in Cheese," Fancy Grocers or "La Delitesse" Co., Herkimer, N. Y. Sample jar, 10 cents. "Dry-Royal."

One of the Cholces: Dry Sparkling $21.00 CASE QTS. The Highest Award for Artificial Teeth & World's Fair was granted Dr. Henry F. Deane, Dentist, 454 Lexington-ave, cor. 45th. Specialty, artificial teeth. Expression restored. Telephone 710-38th-st.

Hats.—Burke's Fail Styles now ready. Quality unex-celled. Slik Hats, $6. Derby Hats, $3 and $4. Every Hat guaranteed. 210 Broadway. Postoffice Notice.
Foreign mails for the week ending October 5 will close promptly in all cases) at this office as follows:

TRANSATLANTIC MAILS.

TUESDAY—At 5 a. m. for Europe, per s. s. Aller, vis.

Southampton and Bremen detters for Ireland must be TUESDAY—At 5 a. m. for Europe, per s. s. Aller, vis Suthampton and Bremen (letters for Ireland must be directed 'per Aller'). m. (supplementary 10 a. m.) for WEDNESDAY—At 8 h. m. (supplementary 10 a. m.) for WEDNESDAY—At 8 h. m. (supplementary 10 a. m.) for Ireland must be directed 'per New-York' it at 10 a. m. for Heigium direct, per s. s. Noordland, via Antwerp (letters must be directed 'per Noordland'); at 1 a. m. (supplementary 2200 p. m.) for Europe, per s. s. Teutonic, via Queenstown.

THURSDAY—At 8 a. m. for Europe, per s. s. Augusta Victoria, via Cherbourg, Southampton and Hamburg.
SATURDAY—At 2 a. m. for France, Switzerland, Italy, Spain, Portugal, Turkey, Egypt and Brittsn India, per s. s. La Bourgone, via Havive; at 6 s. m. for Germany, Denmark, Sweden, Norway (Christiania) and Russia, per s. s. Trave, via Bremen Getters for other parts of Europe, via Southampton, must be directed 'per Trave'); at 10 a. m. for Scotland direct, per s. s. Anchoria, via Glasgow tietters must be directed 'per Anchoria'); at 12 m. (supplementary 1:30 p. m.) for Europe, per s. s. Umbria, via Queenstown.

After the closing of the supplementary transatianto.

Spaarndam'), at 12 m. (supplementary Ita) p. m.) to Europe, per s. s. Umbria, via Queenstown.

After the closing of the supplementary transatiantio mails named above, additional supplementary mails are open on the piers of the American, English, French and German steamers, and remain open until within ten minutes of the hour of saliding of steamer.

MAILS FOR SOUTH AND CENTRAL AMERICA, WEST MAILS FOR SOUTH AND CENTRAL AMERICA, WEST MONDAY—At 23 p. m. for Bocas del Toro, per steamer from New-Orieans.

MONDAY—At 3 p. m. (supplementary 11 a. m.) for Colon and Fanama, per s. s. Advance Getters must be directed 'per Advance'); at 10 a. m. (supplementary i1 a. m.) for Central America texcept Costa Rica) and South Pacific ports, per s. s. City of Para', via Colon Getters must be directed 'per Gotty of Para'); at 11 a. m. for Santiaco, per s. s. Habana detters for Venaeviela and Colombia must be directed. 'per Habana'); at 13 a. m. for Santiaco, per s. Habana detters for Venaeviela and Colombia must be directed. 'per Habana'

Huesteday per steamers from Boston.

TUESDAY—At 1 a. m. for Brasil's Per Baltimore (Betters for North Brasil and La Plata countries must be directed 'per Salerno, from Baltimore (Betters for North Brasil and La Plata countries must be directed 'Per Salerno', 1 at 3 p. m. for Fortune Island and Haiti, per s. s. Andes; at 12:30 p. m. for Fortune Island and Haiti, per s. s. Andes; at 12:30 p. m. for Demerara direct, per s. s. Ploma.

THURSDAY—At 9 a. m. for Demerara direct, per s. s. Ploma.

THURSDAY—At 9 a. m. for Demerara direct, per s. s. Ploma.

THURSDAY—At 9 a. m. for Demerara direct, per s. s. Flora.

HAVARIA; at 1500 p. in. for La Plata countries direct, Plorna.

THURSDAY—At 9:30 c. in. for La Plata countries direct, per s. s. Buffon; at 1 p. m. (supplementary 1:30 p. m.) for Bermuda, per s. s. Orinoco; at 1 p. m. for Barbados direct, also North Brazil, via Para and Manaco, per s. s. Origen dictiers for other parts of Brazil must be directed "per Origen"; at 3 p. m. for Biuefields, per steamer from New-Orleans.

FRIDAY—At 2 p. m. for Porto Rico, per s. s. South Cambria.

steamer from New-Orleans.

FRIDAY—At 1 a. m. for Porto Rico, per s. s. South Cambria.

FRIDAY—At 1 a. m. for Brazil and La Piata countries,
ATURDAY—At 1 a. m. for Brazil and La Piata countries,
ATURDAY—At 1 a. m. for Brazil and La Piata countries,
ATURDAY—At 1 a. m. for Brazil and La Piata countries,
Via Fernambuco, Victoria and Santos, per s. s. Mozart,
via Fernambuco, Victoria and Santos, per s. s. Mozart, via Fernambuco, Victoria and Santos, per s. s. Alieghany; at 10:20 a. m. for Campeche, Chiper s. s. Alieghany; at 10:20 a. m. for Campeche, Chiapas, Tabasco, Tuxam and Yucatan, per s. s. Vigapas, Tabasco, Tuxam and Yucatan, per s. s. Vigliancia detters for other parts of Mexico and for Cubaliancia detters for other parts of Nexico and for Cubaliancia detters for other parts of Venezuela. Curacao, Erialdad, Idetters for other parts of Venezuela. Curacao, Trinidad, Idetters for other parts of Venezuela. Curacao, per
s. s. Caracas (eleters for other parts of Columbia must be directed "per Caracas"); at 12 m. for Grenada, Trinidad, dad, Tolaxo and Dumerara, per s. s. Irrawadiay.

Mails for Newfoundland, by rail to Halifax, and thence by neamer, close at this office daily at 8:30 p. m. Mails for Cuba
close at this office daily at 8:30 p. m. Mails for Cuba close at this office daily at 7 a. m., for forwarding by steatmers salling (Mondays and Thursdays) from Port Tampa, Fla. Mails for Mexico, overland, unless specially Tampa, Fla. Mails for M

Religione Notices.

ALL SOULS CHURCH Madison-ave, and 60th-st., Rev. R. HEBER NEWTON, Rector.—Rev. A. N. HEM-SHAW will preach at 11 a. m.

AT SOUTH CHURCH, Madison-ave. and 38th-et-RODERICK TERRY, D. D., Pastor,—Service at 11 a. ma The Pastor will preach.

CHURCH OF ST. MARY THE VIRGIN. Michaelmas.— Masses for Communion. 7:30, 9. Matins. 10. Solemn high mass, 10:45. Solemn Vespen. 4.

CHRIST CHURCH, Tist-st. and Boulevard, Dr. J. S. SHIPMAN, Rector; Rev. HERBERT SHIPMAN, assistant.—Morning service at 11 o'clock; evening prayer at s'clock.